

Alison Bartle

Director, Aqua-Media International Ltd

Alison Bartle has been writing, editing and publishing in the field of water resources development for more than 30 years. She is Director of Aqua~Media International, Publisher of Hydropower & Dams. Alison is an Honorary Member of the International Commission on Large Dams, and was a Founder of the IHA. She is currently a member of ICOLD's Public Awareness Committee and served on the Governance Committee during its four-year mandate. She has written and presented papers on the role and benefits of hydro and water resources schemes, including at the World Bank Renewable Energy Forum. She was winner of the Turkish Prime Minister's Water Prize (March 2009), and of an IndiaPower Award (November 2010).